Sorry Susan, I know what it is. Just wondered why we're being sent this now? Is it relevant to termination at the moment?

It is DLA's take on the risk allocation at the time which may or may not be borne out by the actual terms of the contract.

Kind regards

Nick

Nick

It was the DLA risk allocation matrix which showed who held what risks at the point the Infraco contract was signed.

Risk Allocation Matrix at contract close

You have probably seen this already as part of the Close Report but I thought it might be worth sending it through to you again.
