Following on from the very useful discussion yesterday evening, I am enclosing the latest draft paper which should facilitate discussions between us.

At this stage, I still have an open mind on the pros and cons of Options A and B which I believe need rigorous testing we also need to take further advice on the degree of "arms-lengthness" required by the 1985 Transport Act.

Nonetheless, Graeme and Kenneth are happy to engage at your convenience (as I am as appropriate).

Regards

David
