Steven,

I have now spoken with Ailsa, and included her notes. I have also made a few other changes including the insertion of a slide entitled 'Specific Strategic Problems'. If you read through from slide 17 to the end you will pick up all the changes. Please discard the previous version.

In terms of the future:

- I am happy to discuss or present the report (in person, by phone etc) to your exec team.
- I am interested in future involvement if you decide to act on this report. My interest is in two distinct areas:
 - In support of the managerial and leadership process (very much as a figure in the background - this is a matter for your new project director to lead from the front on)
 - the SDS design review process where I could conceivably take a more active role in terms of the process and its actual design review content. This may prove to be the more urgent need.

I look forward to hearing from you when you judge the time is right.

David
